The aim of Strategic Grants for Internationalisation is to contribute to the renewal and development of university-wide internationalisation, preferably in collaboration with other Swedish universities, or by including more Swedish universities in the long term. These grants support strategic initiatives which build on or benefit from the drive and experiences of individual internationalisation pioneers, while clearly contributing to comprehensive internationalisation at universities. Additional funds are offered to facilitate the mobility of young researchers. Such funding enables them to participate in and build strategic international projects early in their careers. Due to the pandemic, many young researchers have had limited opportunity to travel abroad thus far under their careers. Young researchers are defined as those currently registered as doctoral students, or who have obtained their doctoral degrees in 2022 or later.

Project implementation and reports

Assessment results are scheduled to be published in June 2025. Funds are normally paid out in the form of grants. Annual situation reports will be requested as well as a final report, which should be submitted to STINT no later than three months after the end of the project.

Requests for extensions will be viewed restrictively. However, parental leave or long-term sick leave on the part of key persons will constitute grounds for extending the period for which a STINT grant can be used.
